

By means of this letter I want to express my gratitude and recognition to Kili Sherpa for the excellent service and help I have always received from his company in all of the expeditions where we have worked together.

I particularly want to mention the 2 Everest expeditions in which Kili has taken care of all the logistics and organization in Nepal for me and my team: bureaucratic issues, travel arrangements, trekking and base camp services, altitude tents and gear, as well as providing me with possibly the best altitude Sherpas you can find nowadays.

In spring of 2005 as a member of the Discovery Channel team shooting a documentary on Everest I was really impressed by Kili's services and support during the whole expedition that were definitely a key factor of the successful outcome of this expedition.

From our remarkable staff, food, and tents at base camp, to the outstanding performance of the Sherpas on the mountain, everything was first class.

I would certainly recommend Kili to anyone who is looking for a professional, reliable agency in Nepal no matter how complex or light an expedition he or she wants to do.

Finally but most important, Kili is above all a simple, honest, hard working man that will go beyond what he is obliged to help you in any possible way.

Mexico City
September 2005